Dear Friends Of Eagles:

As we enter the twenty-first century, the Bald Eagle faces continuing threats to its livelihood and new challenges in its fight for survival.

The non-profit American Eagle Foundation (AEF) is a citizen's effort established to care for, restore and protect the U.S.A.'s living symbol of Freedom, as well as the fragile ecosystem that both eagles and humans depend on.

The Bald Eagle is making a gradual comeback to our great country, but, unfortunately, it is not yet home free. Much work still needs to be done to preserve its nesting and foraging habitat, maintain and enforce strict protection laws, and monitor nesting populations nation-wide.

We need your help to Build a Nest Egg that will ensure a healthy and prosperous future for the majestic Bald Eagle. Please make sure to donate to our American Eagle Fund to show your support for this noble cause and preserve this magnificent creature.

Caring people and corporations, just like you, can fulfill the dream and finish the job of bringing back the Bald Eagle to our nation's lands, waterways and skys.

With your help, many generations of Americans will be able to enjoy and be inspired by one of our country's most precious national treasures.

Thank you in advance for your generous and caring support.

Bald Eagle Set For Delisting By February 16, 2007

In anticipation of the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service's upcoming "delisting" of the bald eagle as an endangered species, the American Eagle Foundation has a clearly defined vision to continue safeguarding America's national bird for future generations. One of the primary goals of the AEF includes creating an "American Eagle Fund" to care for this national treasure forever. Read More.

American Eagle & Literacy Challenge

The AEF has teamed up with the Fraternal Order of Eagles and Timberlin Creek Elementary School to support a nationwide initiative to help preserve the Bald Eagle and promote childhood literacy in the United States. This initiative includes a letter-writing campaign asking governors nationwide to proclaim "American Eagle Day" on June 20th for Americans everywhere to annually celebrate. ## Did You Know?

Over 300 bald eaglets (age 12 to 13 weeks) have been released in the state of Tennessee since the early 1980s to help bring back the national bird - more than any other state.

Guidelines For Bald Eagle Viewing

How can we safely view and learn about bald eagles at the same time? Guided eagle-viewing tours generally get you safely to the "hot spots", while providing interesting and informative programs. Many North American winter eagle festivals are described on our website. They generally combine tours with inside informative programs. You can also find guidance on good locations for individual eagle viewing if you: access "Google" at www.google.com and enter the key words, "eagle viewing, Tennessee", "eagle viewing, Minnesota", etc. Learn more about eagle viewing without "disturbance".
